(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We have some interesting things going on here. There is a lot brewing with masculine energies though this is a time to really work with masculine energies in all the different ways that they affect the consciousness.

So we're not just talking about man or war influences or that sort of thing but also some of the emotional components within the consciousness and how you respond with them.

For example, if you get a little bit angry or irritated, do you get energized and kind of feisty or do you get sort of lethargic or weepy? That would be an indicator whether or not you're using, say, anger in a masculine form, like "I am going to get busy and do something about it" or "I'm gonna talk it out" you know that kind of thing. Or if you're feminine, "Well that just makes me so sad I'm going to sit here and cry for a little while," and no thoughts particularly come to your mind, you're just sad about the situation.

So self examining toward where are your masculine tendencies and how do you deal with them. Can you channel them differently so no one gets hurt including yourself? Can you bring in more feminine influence with it? Can you push a hold button and just sort of wait for things to cool down before you take action? That sort of thing. So masculine in general is going to be very interesting over the next few months.

And then we have Neptune going retrograde. That is going to occur on June 12, in the early hours of the morning. It does so in Psychic Pisces which is adding more water to the mix. So I expect this one to sort of bring up again emotional undercurrents. This is a time to get watery things in place including water in the home, water in the car, water, just kind of check water pipes and things like that. Leaks in the roof, all that kind of stuff because Neptune in Psychic Pisces can have a big effect there but also in the emotional realms.

So my true topic really for this week is "Forgiveness Helps Me". When we talk about forgiveness, many people think "Well why should I forgive that person for all the terrible things they did." Well it's not about excusing them; it's about moving into a peaceful place within yourself so your own emotions are clear and clean and you're not constantly thinking about the negative things they did or how bad a person they are. So it frees you up. It's emotional freedom for you.

So "forgiveness helps me". Do it for yourself and that's another way, especially with these configurations coming up with the masculine energies and the watery energies, it's another way to stay, I'm going to say, psychically protected during this time period and also to make sure some part of your own consciousness isn't unknowingly kind of sending psychic attacks to other people because they've done negative things in the past.

So whatever you send out is going to come right back and so you want to be very careful about what you're sending out. And when you move into a state of forgiveness you are no longer sending out any kind of victim energy or "shame on you" energy which comes back as "shame on me". It's just a really clean way to have the consciousness be.

Alright Dear Ones. As always, thank you and my love to you.
